For disaster counties

$1 million grant awarded for training

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Individuals in Hancock County may qualify to participate in a job training project funded by a $1 million grant awarded to the state.

Approximately 180 individuals in Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson counties will be selected for the project, said Worth Haynes, director for the Mississippi Department of Job Development and Training.

Senator Thad Cochran reported Friday that the grant had been awarded to the state by the Department of Labor.

Worth declined to comment on specifics of the project until he received official notification of the grant.

He said he expected to release information on the project Monday, Oct. 14.

"The application was in three parts and I am not certain which parts were funded," Worth said.

The funding, granted under the Job Training Partnership Act, is targeted to help individuals displaced from work as a result of the Sept.

2 hurricane which struck the Gulf Coast area.

Individuals participating in the project will receive work experience training for occupations in demand as a result of the extensive damage from the hurricane.

According to the Labor Department this will involve training in equipment and job performance to help clean up and restore property and facilities in the Gulf Coast area.

Worth said Hancock Counties seeking additional information should contact Andy Cutler at the Gulf Coast Business Service Corporation, 864-7925.

Investigators eyeing insurance policy on murder victim

By DENA BISNETTE

Jackson County authorities are investigating the possibility that former Bay St. Louis resident Darlene McNeal may have been murdered for insurance money.

Mrs. McNeal was found dead Oct. 2 near Interstate-10 in Louisiana about 1.5 miles from the Hancock County-St. Tammany Parish line.

She had been shot in the head. On Oct. 7, her husband, Donald McNeal, was arrested by Jackson County Sheriff's Department officers at his residence in Gulf Park Estates subdivision east of Ocean Springs.

He is charged with murder and is being held in the Jackson County

Adult Detention Center on $300,000 bond.

According to Chief Deputy Wayne Howard, investigators have learned that McNeal had taken out a $100,000 insurance policy on his wife.

Howard said McNeal had been paying the policy for about a year, but had allowed a similar one on himself to lapse.

It is believed that McNeal was the beneficiary listed on Mrs. McNeal's policy.

Howard said investigators have not yet confirmed whether the existence of the policy is related to the murder.

He said no motive has yet been established.

Bay Council accepts Central Avenue bid

By DENA BISNETTE

On its second try, the Bay St. Louis City Council has obtained an acceptable bid for widening and overlay of Central Avenue.

The low bidder is Necaise Construction at $247,974.

The original estimate for the project had been about $34,000 lower than the bid the board accepted Thursday.

The project had been previously advertised for bids, but the board rejected the lone bid as being too high. Bay Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr. said all possible efforts had been made to interest contractors in the project.

"I'm disappointed in the bids, but this is a very valid bid and I recommend it be accepted," the mayor said.

He said he felt rejecting the bids and waiting to bid again would cause delay of the job until next year because the best weather for construction would be missed.

Frankiewicz said that the bid must be forwarded to the State Highway Department for approval before a contract can be finalized.

He said it will probably take several weeks to obtain approval.

The State Highway Department is providing 75 percent of the funding for the project and the city is providing the remaining 25 percent.

One part of the project, clearing and regrading a drainage ditch, is not covered by the state funding. The ditch will extend from Central Avenue to Third Street and will cost about $2,600.

In other business, the council briefly discussed the drainage problems development of Hancock Medical Center and the surrounding area could cause.

Frankiewicz said he has discussed the matter informally with members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. According to an informal agreement, the county is expected to pay two-thirds of the cost of installing larger culverts where Drinkwater Road drains into Green Meadow Road.

The city is expected to pay the remaining third. The total cost is estimated to be between $18,000 and $27,000.

Enlargements of the culverts, however, is expected to drain a large area and the project will be beneficial to the city, the mayor said.

He said the city could pay its share of the cost out of $50,000 in capital improvement funds budgeted for drainage.

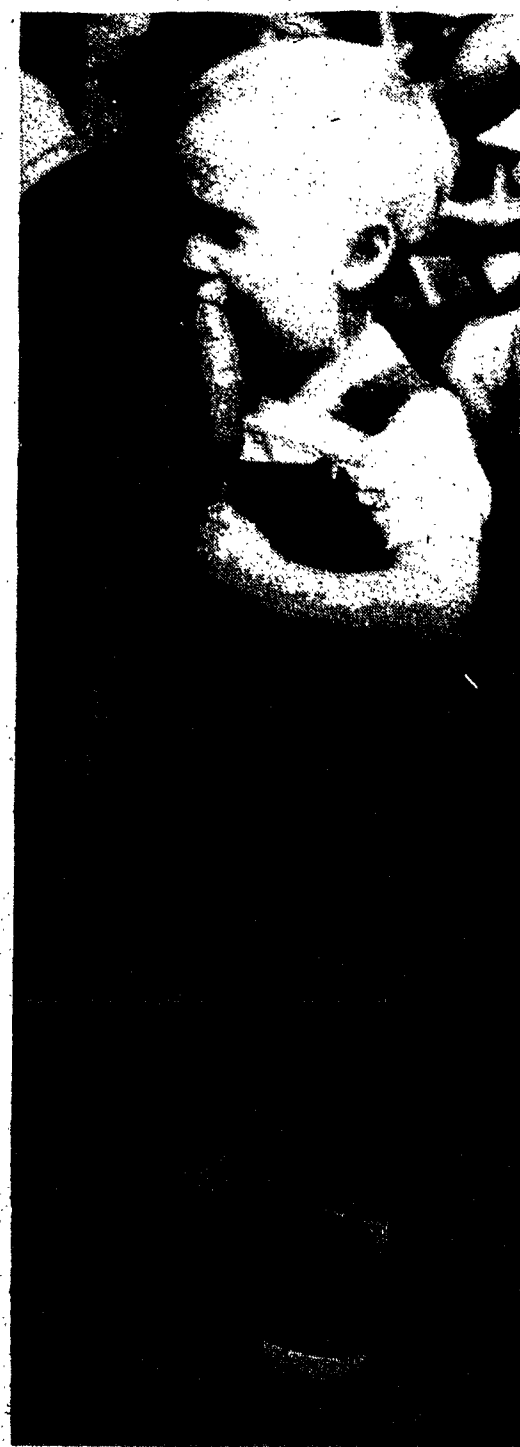

Frankiewicz recommended that the city handle the design aspects of the project and that the work be timed to coincide with a sewerage project in the same area.

Bay St. Louis man dies in accident

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Earl Joseph Berry, 21, of Route 1, Box 221, Bay St. Louis was fatally injured Saturday in a one-vehicle accident on Bayou La Croix Road.

Berry apparently lost control of the vehicle which travelled 150 feet in the ditch before striking a pine tree, Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy Leo Ladner said.

Jeff Walnwright, 28, of Route 2,

Bay St. Louis was a passenger in the vehicle. He sustained only a minor cut in the accident.

Hancock County Coroner Harold Stiglet pronounced Berry dead at the accident scene. The cause of death was injuries sustained in the accident.

Also assisting at the accident scene were Deputies George Burleson and James Ladner and Waveland Police Officer Brent Ladner.

Earlier this week Hancock Sheriff's Deputy Dennis Tartavouille arrested a 35-year-old white Bay St. Louis male with three counts of fondling and one count of resisting arrest.

Charges stem from the alleged fondling of an 11-year-old female child, said Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

The incident was investigated by Hancock Investigator Delbert Sossy and the Hancock County Welfare Department.

CHAIN SAW SAFETY

Cooler weather and changing leaves mark the fall season. Despite the season's beauty, fall is often a dangerous time of year for those who use chainsaws to cut firewood.

Following basic rules of safety can reduce the hazards of harvesting firewood. First it is important to read and understand the operator's manual before using a chainsaw.

Wear heavier, tight-fitting clothes when working in the woods with the saw. Safety shoes, a bump cap and eye protection are also recommended when felling, or handling heavy wood. These guard against injury from falling limbs or flying chips. Ear plugs are a help when you operate for a long time.

Avoid saw fires by fueling the saw away from fires or cigarettes. Never fuel a hot saw and wipe spilled fuel before cranking the saw.

Carry the saw with motor stopped, blade to the rear and the muffler away from you. This will help avoid cuts and burns while transporting the saw.

To start the saw, place it on the ground. Get a good footing and hold the saw down on the ground with one hand and pull the crank with the other. Don't start or operate the saw if you're in a tree or on a ladder.

A well-maintained and tuned saw starts easily and safely. A saw in good condition also is safer to operate. Keep the chain sharp, tight and well-oiled and the saw free of oil, gasoline and sawdust.

Practice operating your saw properly. Stay on guard for kickback and cutting accidents by keeping the tip out of the wood and away from small limbs so it cannot grab.

Hold the saw firmly with both hands, and don't saw over shoulder height.

Store the chain saw where children and inexperienced operators cannot experiment with it. Disconnect the spark plug wire as an added precaution.

Use metal containers with spouts for fueling and storing fuel. Storage in jugs and bottles pose a fire hazard and poison hazard to children.

Good saw operation does not come naturally and safely. (Source: Dannie Reed)

FALL WHEAT PLANTING QUESTIONABLE

Many Hancock County farmers are faced with the decision about planting wheat this year. Low prices, diseases and the possibility of a Hessian fly outbreak all discourage farmers planting a crop.

In making the decision of whether to plant, farmers should consider several factors.

There are a few disease-resistant varieties available, but these often do not offer any protection against the Hessian fly. Since it will be difficult to find a variety that offers complete resistance, plan to use fungicides this spring on most varieties.

High yields will be necessary for a profit. Don't plant wheat on marginal land since it will not produce top yields. Wet fields and highly eroded fields are also poor choices for wheat.

A high level of fertility also is needed for high yields. Most of the wheats that we plant have a genetic potential to produce more than 100 bushels per acre.

Don't plant too early. The general starting date is October 15 throughout the state, but November 1st should be early enough in south Mississippi.

These later plantings miss most, if not all, of the aphid infestations. Aphids are carriers of barley yellow dwarf virus. Other insects such as the fall armyworm also will be avoided.

Later plantings also have less competition from warm season annual weeds and grasses.

Mississippi State University does not discriminate on grounds of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age or handicap.

Consumers can reduce gaps in Medicare

By Rosemary Tigrett

People age 65 and over who qualify for Medicare do not always get the greatest benefits from their coverage.

Several factors will help reduce the gaps in the medical coverage and could have some influence on supplemental insurance.

Choose doctors and medical suppliers who accept assignment. Assignment is the specified charge Medicare allows for a procedure. The consumer or the supplemental insurance pay the difference when a doctor does not accept assignment.

Use hospitals, skilled nursing facilities and other institutions that are approved by Medicare.

Those with serious illnesses requiring extended care should ask their doctor to consider moving them to a skilled nursing home when Medicare coverage for hospital costs expires. If possible, they should move to a nursing home before they begin paying the $100 per day coinsurance on the 61st day.

Ask the doctor to consider home health service visits when the hospital and skilled care coverage are used up, or if hospitalization is unnecessary.

Prepare Medicare claims carefully. Keep accurate records and fill in claim forms completely.

Those who think their claim has been underpaid should appeal to the Medicare office. About half of those who appeal get at least a partial adjustment, so it is probably worth the time and effort.

Medicare does not cover all medical expenses. Basically, there are three different kinds of gaps in Medicare coverage. These gaps, or the part that consumers and/or their insurance must pay, are: the deductibles and coinsurance payments; the difference between Medicare's approved amount and the actual amount charged; and items not covered at all by Medicare such as prescription drugs, private duty nurse and care in a custodial-care nursing home.

PREACH THE GOSPEL

The greatest message delivered is the gospel of Christ. It offers the greatest hope man can contemplate. The hope it tenders is eternal life.

Jesus commanded the gospel to be preached. He said, "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, and lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world. Amen." (Matthew 28:18-20)

"Go" is an imperative command or mandate. The command is to teach. Mark's record says preach (Mark 16:15)

Because of the different methods of teaching, some have tried to make a distinction between teaching and preaching. As you can see, Mark and Matthew use preach and teach to refer to the same act. The method is not bound, but the imparting of the message is bound.

The command to preach the gospel is world wide in its scope. Matthew's record says, "teach all nations." (Matthew 28:19)

Mark's record says "preach...to every creature." (Mark 16:15)

Jesus gave the procedure, "...and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and unto the uttermost part of the earth." (Acts 1:8)

We must begin where we are and spread our efforts to spread the gospel as far as we can.

The gospel must be preached. Fairy tales that tickle the ears will not save the soul. The idea is not to entertain a carnal heart. Paul said to the Ephesian elders, "For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God." (Acts 20:27)

The mission to preach the gospel is age lasting. Jesus said that he would be with mankind "even unto the end of the world." The Hebrew writer wrote concerning Christ, "Wherefore he is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them." (Hebrews 7:25)

He is able to save the last man.

To carry out the mission to preach the gospel, we must begin where we are.

To the apostles Jesus said, "...ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth." (Acts 1:8)

The apostles began where they were to preach the gospel. They radiated from Jerusalem to the known world.

What must the alien sinner hear? He must be convinced that God is, that Christ is God's son, that man is a sinner, that Christ shed his life's blood for the redemption of man. He needs to learn salvation is conditional on obedience. "...he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him." (Hebrews 5:9)

The message of salvation is the most urgent message. "And it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgement." (Hebrews 9:27)

It is more important than awaking people whose house is on fire. The body just returns to the earth, but the soul will die or live eternally. The choice is made while in the body.

REPUBLIC OF CHINA PURCHASING MISSION MAKES SIXTH STATE VISIT

The Mississippi Department of Economic Development announces that the Special Procurement Mission from the Republic of China (ROC) will make their sixth buying trip to the State Oct. 8-10. During their trip the delegation is expected to accept bids on 27,000 metric tons of soybeans and 27,000 metric tons of corn with a combined estimated value of approximately $9 million.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, Governor Bill Allain and the Board of Economic Development hosted a dinner and reception in honor of the procurement delegation at the Ramada Renaissance Hotel.

The bid ceremony and a press conference was held Wednesday morning in the Judiciary Committee Room in the East Wing of the First Floor of the New Capitol.

Speaker of the House, C. B. "Buddie" Newman, signed the purchase agreement on behalf of the State Legislature.

Jerry McDonald, executive director of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development says, "Continued support of Mississippi's agribusiness by the Republic of China is important, especially in this period of increasing difficulty for Mississippi and American farmers."

In 1984, Mississippi sold $39.5

million in soybeans to the Republic of China. Since 1978, five procurement missions have visited the State and purchased over $50 million in products, predominantly soybeans. Other ROC imports of value to Mississippi's economy include cotton, hardwood products, paper products, and a variety of other Mississippi commodities.

$5 MILLION EDA GRANT

A grant of $5 million has been awarded Mississippi's Institute for Technology Development.

The Economic Development Administration (EDA) is making the funding available to the state's high tech institute to help implement its program of advancing Mississippi's industrial base and creating new job opportunities.

I am pleased that EDA and the Department of Commerce have come through with this important grant for our state's Institute for Technology Development.

The agency said the grant was being made under EDA's research program. The demonstration grant was to be coupled with nearly $3.5 million in state funding for the high tech institute headquartered in Jackson and affiliated with several of the state's universities and colleges.

Earlier, EDA had awarded a $2 million grant to the state institute to help it initiate its program and planning operations.

By developing national excellence in several specific but flexible areas of technology, the Institute will demonstrate a comprehensive approach to augmenting a state's advanced industrial base, EDA said in awarding the $5 million grant.

The Mississippi Congressional delegation had worked for several years to direct EDA to conduct a feasibility study for such a high tech institute and in 1984 a supplemental appropriations bill recommended $7 million as the initial federal contribution toward establishment of the institute.

In addition to the $7 million in federal funds, the state budgeted $3,480,917 in support of the high institute's activities, EDA pointed out.

I am glad that significant progress is being made in funding and getting into operation this important institute for high-level technology development to benefit our state and its people.

City receives strong

Seven fire insurance rating

Dear Editor of The Sea Coast Echo,
The City of Bay St. Louis recently received this from the state's fire rating bureau. I thought you might want to share it with your readers.

Sincerely,
Victor Frankiewicz
Mayor

Dear Mayor Frankiewicz,

Reference is made to my recent survey of the Public Fire Protection facilities in Bay St. Louis. Some improvements were noted since our last survey. As a result Bay St. Louis now grades a good Seventh Class for fire insurance purposes. As requested, during my survey we are submitting the following Improvement Statements which, if fully complied with, will enable Bay St. Louis to qualify for a fire insurance classification of Sixth. They are:

—Auxiliary power such as a gasoline, LP or natural gas, or diesel fueled motor, be permanently installed to operate two of your largest wells which discharge directly into the distribution system in the event of the failure of normal electric power.

—Strengthen the water distribution system so that a minimum of 1000 gallons per minute at a residual pressure of 20 p.s.i. would be available in all residential areas.

—Install and maintain sufficient meters so that records may be kept on all water that is pumped and consumed. These meters should be read daily and the totals of water pumped and consumed checked to determine excessive water lossage.

—Maintain regular program of fire hydrant inspections on a semi-annual basis. This will ensure that all fire hydrants are in easy and dependable operating condition.

These Improvement Statements refer only to the fire insurance rating classification of your city. Our comments are not for property loss prevention or life safety purposes and no life safety or property loss prevention recommendations are made.

Please contact us if you have any questions or if you want out comments on any proposed improvements.

Yours very truly,

OSTEOPOROSIS

Q. I'm a healthy adult. Do I need to include milk in my diet?

A. Your mother probably made you drink milk when you were a child, right? And then, just as soon as you could, you moved on to more "fun" drinks, never coming near milk again.

Perhaps that's why there is nearly an epidemic of bone-related illness in America today.

The condition—osteoporosis— affects over half of all women over the age of 45 and weakens their bones due to a loss of calcium-containing minerals and bone support structure. Over one million men are also affected, but the condition is five times more frequent in women.

The problem is really enormous. One out of three women living in the United States either already has osteoporosis or will eventually develop it.

Over the age of 60, one woman in four suffers vertebral compression fractures leading to shortening of the spine, loss of height, or the so-called "dowager's hump."

Assuming a female population of 125 million, more than 40 million women are destined to suffer some manifestation of osteoporosis.

The disease involves the entire skeleton, but the "soft" bones are most vulnerable, leading to fractures of the vertebrae, wrists, and hips. The most dreaded and lethal complication is hip fracture.

Nearly everyone knows some older person who suffered a hip fracture in a seemingly minor fall. In a study of hip fractures, 88 percent of those patients had osteoporosis.

Hospitalization and surgery for hip fracture is hard on the elderly, but even more serious is the fact that 15 percent of these patients die.

The total cost is astronomical—the national health expense just for acute hip fracture in 1979 was over one billion dollars.

Osteoporosis is a quiet disease, developing over 15 to 20 year time span. In spite of the large numbers of patients who have the condition, it remains largely unrecognized and untreated.

Well over 40 percent of the total skeleton must be lost before conventional x-rays can show the bone loss.

Because of this, the first hint of the bone loss is frequently found in the elderly, often after a fracture.

No single cause can be blamed for the condition, but a number of risk factors are known. Medical research indicates the poor dietary intake of calcium is a major cause.

The average American gets only half the calcium needed for health and well-being in his or her diet. Frequent dieting also hurts.

White women are most at risk; blacks seem to have a relative immunity. Women seem to start off with a disadvantage.

In men, bone density peaks at age 45 to 55, and then declines slowly.

In women, this peak occurs at age 35 to 45, and then declines rapidly.

Women start off with about 25 percent less bone calcium than men.

The smaller frame and bone mass in women also puts them at a disadvantage.

Menopause accelerates the age-related bone loss, so this is especially crucial in women who experience premature menopause or who have had surgical removal of the ovaries.

Lack of exercise and a family history of osteoporosis also predispose to the condition.

We tend to think of bone as merely our internal rigid framework, but bone is a living tissue. Over 20 percent of our skeleton is remodeled and replaced each year so there is a continuing need for calcium and bone minerals.

Once osteoporosis is present, there is no accepted treatment that leads to complete replenishment of bone mass.

Calcium replacement and several drugs have been used, but the clinical course is usually one of continued brittle bones and fractures.

The only hope for changing this rather dismal picture is prevention. If treatment is started before significant bone loss occurs, development of osteoporosis can be delayed for at least eight years and perhaps longer.

That's where milk comes in. The normal diet requires 1,200 to 1,500 milligrams of calcium daily, slightly more than the amount in one quart of milk.

Milk is simply the easiest way to get your daily calcium. You would have to eat 10 eggs or 97 frankfurters or 29 apples or 485 crackers or 73 cups of cornflakes or 14 cups of rice or a five-pounds beef roast to get the calcium in one glass of milk.

Hate to drink milk? About one and a half ounces of hard cheese (Swiss, cheddar or Edam) is equal to one glass of milk.

How about two cups of ice cream or cottage cheese? Adding non-fat dry skim milk to recipes will hide the milk without affecting the flavor. One ounce of Parmesan cheese sprinkled on casseroles or salads equals one glass of milk.

The more calcium and other related minerals contained in your bones, the less the effect of age-related bone loss.

It is never too late to start, but the best time to start is in the teenage years.

For those who may already have osteoporosis, higher calcium supplementation or a drug regimen may be indicated under the supervision of your physician.

Small Business Administration

By Charles A. Gillis

Gulfport Branch Office

Because government regulations can impose heavy paperwork and red tape burdens on small business, Congress in 1980 passed the Regulatory Flexibility Act. Its aim: To ensure that federal regulations "do not unnecessarily or disproportionately burden small businesses."

A report prepared by the U.S. Small Business Administration's Office of Advocacy (which by law is charged with overseeing implementation of the Act) concludes that "federal agencies have become increasingly aware of the effects that government regulations may exert on small business."

Agencies have improved regulatory flexibility analyses by using better economic data, by engaging in more extensive outreach efforts (and) by devising internal agency regulatory procedures for complying with the Act."

The SBA report, for example, says the Environmental Protection Agency took small business concerns into consideration in a final rule defining effluent limitations guidelines for batteries and that the Food Safety Inspection Service followed the same tack in a regulation dealing with protein fat in pork products.

The Defense Department took small business concerns into consideration when it designed a directive regarding the withholding of technical data from the public.

SBA's report also said its Advocacy staff helped affect regulatory policy in the General Services Administration's development of policy on multiple award schedule contractors, the Federal Communications Commission's development of a rule on access charges for telephone single line business users and on the FCC's development of a new rule defining the number of AM and FM radio stations and television stations that a party can own.

After consultation with SBA, the Internal Revenue Service introduced two new forms to help reduce small business paperwork (the 1120-A form for corporations and the 1065 form for partnerships). The SBA report said IRS "is continuing its two-year study to develop a better methodology for estimating paperwork burdens."

The Office of Advocacy will scrutinize the results of the study to determine whether the methodology will be appropriate for estimating the costs to small business on complying with paperwork requirements.

The report noted that following the lead of the Federal Government, many states have enacted legislation and initiated programs to promote small business competition and have enacted regulatory flexibility acts and paperwork reduction acts.

24-HOUR EMERGENCY CARE

When accidents happen or illness strikes, the need for prompt, expert medical care can be critical.

Now you can have peace of mind, knowing that 24-hour emergency care is only minutes away.

NorthShore Regional Medical Center offers complete round-the-clock emergency medical services:

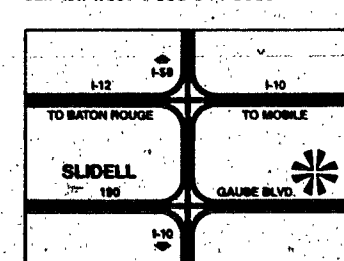

- The only ambulance service on the North Shore with 24-hour coverage by national registered paramedics, from the emergency site to the hospital. Registered paramedics are specialists in recognizing and responding to life-threatening crises.
- A highly skilled, caring emergency and trauma staff, backed by our medical staff of leading area physicians.
- State-of-the-art equipment in ambulances and the Emergency Room.

Another advantage: tiered-pricing

Tiered-pricing means that you pay only for the degree of care you require.

Unlike most hospitals, NorthShore does not charge a flat fee for Emergency Room admissions. In other words, a sore throat doesn't cost you as much as a serious fracture.

For yourself and your loved ones, remember NorthShore's 24-Hour Emergency Care Ambulance Service: 646-5050. Outside Louisiana, call toll-free: 1-800-344-6695.

City receives strong Seven fire insurance rating

Dear Editor of The Sea Coast Echo,
The City of Bay St. Louis recently received this from the state's fire rating bureau. I thought you might want to share it with your readers.

Sincerely
Victor Frankiewicz
Mayor

Dear Mayor Frankiewicz,

Reference is made to my recent survey of the Public Fire Protection facilities in Bay St. Louis. Some improvements were noted since our last survey. As a result Bay St. Louis now grades a good Seventh Class for fire insurance purposes. As requested, during my survey we are submitting the following Improvement Statements which, if fully complied with, will enable Bay St. Louis to qualify for a fire insurance classification of Sixth. They are:

—Auxiliary power such as a gasoline, LP or natural gas, or diesel fueled motor, be permanently installed to operate two of your largest wells which discharge directly into the distribution system in the event of the failure of normal electric power.

—Strengthen the water distribution system so that a minimum of 1000 gallons per minute at a residual pressure of 20 p.s.i. would be available in all residential areas.

—Install and maintain sufficient meters so that records may be kept on all water that is pumped and consumed. These meters should be read daily and the totals of water pumped and consumed checked to determine excessive water lossage.

—Maintain regular program of fire hydrant inspections on a semi-annual basis. This will ensure that all fire hydrants are in easy and dependable operating condition.

Parents for quality education spokesman urges meeting attendance

To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:
The Bay-Waveland Parents for Quality Education will meet at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 15, in the Education Building of the First Baptist Church on Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

The agenda for this meeting includes the adoption of the proposed by-laws, election of officers, and discussion of the various issues brought forth at last month's meeting. Projects for this year will be voted upon from these issues.

Notice to next of kin!

Oct. 10, 1985
Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:
I have just notified my family that

Each fire hydrant should be numbered and a card file prepared for recording inspections and repairs.

—An annual program of inspections and operation of all gate valves in the water distribution system should also be maintained and records kept.

—Provide a second pumper company in the fire department manned with a minimum of three full-time firefighters at all times. It would be desirable if this company was located in the northern section of the city as discussed during my visit.

—Improve and develop a better regular firemanship training program along the lines of modern fire methods with a time set aside for daily training.

As you may know, the public fire protection insurance classification number is used as only one of several elements in developing some ratings. Individual property fire rates are also dependent upon specific construction, occupancy, private protection and exposure from adjacent buildings.

These Improvement Statements refer only to the fire insurance rating classification of your city. Our comments are not for property loss prevention or life safety purposes and no life safety or property loss prevention recommendations are made.

Please contact us if you have any questions or if you want out comments on any proposed improvements.

Yours very truly,

So, parents of children in the Bay-Waveland Municipal School District, set Tuesday evening aside. Become part of an organization which gives you a "voice" in your child's education, an organization in which parents will be the decision makers. We enthusiastically look forward to your attendance and participation, as we all work together for quality education in the Bay-Waveland School District.

Sincerely,
Lana Noonan

OSTEOPOROSIS

Q. I'm a healthy adult. Do I need to include milk in my diet?

A. Your mother probably made you drink milk when you were a child, right? And then, just as soon as you could, you moved on to more "fun" drinks, never coming near milk again.

Perhaps that's why there is nearly an epidemic of bone-related illness in America today.

The condition-osteoporosis-affects over half of all women over the age of 45 and weakens their bones due to a loss of calcium-containing minerals and bone support structure. Over one million men are also affected, but the condition is five times more frequent in women.

The problem is really enormous. One out of three women living in the United States either already has osteoporosis or will eventually develop it.

Over the age of 60, one woman in four suffers vertebral compression fractures leading to shortening of the spine, loss of height, or the so-called "dowager's hump."

Assuming a female population of 125 million, more than 40 million women are destined to suffer some manifestation of osteoporosis.

The disease involves the entire skeleton, but the "soft" bones are most vulnerable, leading to fractures of the vertebrae, wrists, and hips. The most dreaded and lethal complication is hip fracture.

Nearly everyone knows some older person who suffered a hip fracture in a seemingly minor fall. In a study of hip fractures, 88 percent of those patients had osteoporosis.

Hospitalization and surgery for hip fracture is hard on the elderly, but even more serious is the fact that 15 percent of these patients die.

The total cost is astronomical-the national health expense just for acute hip fracture in 1979 was over one billion dollars.

Osteoporosis is a quiet disease, developing over 15 to 20 year time span. In spite of the large numbers of patients who have the condition, it remains largely unrecognized and untreated.

Well over 40 percent of the total skeleton must be lost before conventional x-rays can show the bone loss.

Because of this, the first hint of the bone loss is frequently found in the elderly, often after a fracture.

No single cause can be blamed for the condition, but a number of risk factors are known. Medical research indicates the poor dietary intake of calcium is a major cause.

The average American gets only half the calcium needed for health and well-being in his or her diet. Frequent dieting also hurts.

White women are most at risk; blacks seem to have a relative immunity. Women seem to start off with a disadvantage.

In men, bone density peaks at age 45 to 55, and then declines slowly.

In women, this peak occurs at age 35 to 45, and then declines rapidly.

Women start off with about 25 percent less bone calcium than men.

The smaller frame and bone mass in women also puts them at a disadvantage.

Menopause accelerates the age-related bone loss, so this is especially crucial in women who experience premature menopause or who have had surgical removal of the ovaries. Lack of exercise and a family history of osteoporosis also predispose to the condition.

We tend to think of bone as merely our internal rigid framework, but bone is a living tissue. Over 20 percent of our skeleton is remodeled and replaced each year so there is a continuing need for calcium and bone minerals.

Once osteoporosis is present, there is no accepted treatment that leads to complete replenishment of bone mass.

Calcium replacement and several drugs have been used, but the clinical course is usually one of continued brittle bones and fractures.

The only hope for changing this rather dismal picture is prevention. If treatment is started before significant bone loss occurs, development of osteoporosis can be delayed for at least eight years and perhaps longer.

That's where milk comes in. The normal diet requires 1,200 to 1,500 milligrams of calcium daily, slightly more than the amount in one quart of milk.

Milk is simply the easiest way to get your daily calcium. You would have to eat 10 eggs or 97 frankfurters or 29 apples or 485 crackers or 73 cups of cornflakes or 14 cups of rice or a five-pounds beef roast to get the calcium in one glass of milk.

Hate to drink milk? About one and a half ounces of hard cheese (Swiss, cheddar or Edam) is equal to one glass of milk.

How about two cups of ice cream or cottage cheese? Adding non-fat dry skim milk to recipes will hide the milk without affecting the flavor. One ounce of Parmesan cheese sprinkled on casseroles or salads equals one glass of milk.

The more calcium and other related minerals contained in your bones, the less the effect of age-related bone loss.

It is never too late to start, but the best time to start is in the teenage years.

For those who may already have osteoporosis, higher calcium supplementation or a drug regimen may be indicated under the supervision of your physician.

SBA

Small Business Administration

By Charles A. Gillis
Branch Manager
Gulfport Branch Office

Because government regulations can impose heavy paperwork and red tape burdens on small business, Congress in 1980 passed the Regulatory Flexibility Act. Its aim: To ensure that federal regulations "do not unnecessarily or disproportionately burden small businesses." A report prepared by the U.S. Small Business Administration's Office of Advocacy (which by law is charged with overseeing implementation of the Act) concludes that "federal agencies have become increasingly aware of the effects that government regulations may exert on small business."

Agencies have improved regulatory flexibility analyses by using better economic data, by engaging in more extensive outreach efforts (and) by devising internal agency regulatory procedures for complying with the Act."

The SBA report, for example, says the Environmental Protection Agency took small business concerns into consideration in a final rule defining effluent limitations guidelines for batteries and that the Food Safety Inspection Service followed the same tack in a regulation dealing with protein fat in pork products.

The Defense Department took small business concerns into consideration when it designed a directive regarding the withholding of technical data from the public.

SBA's report also said its Advocacy staff helped affect regulatory policy in the General Services Administration's development of policy on multiple award schedule contractors, the Federal Communications Commission's development of a rule on access charges for telephone single line business users and on the FCC's development of a new rule defining the number of AM and FM radio stations and television stations that a party can own.

After consultation with SBA, the Internal Revenue Service introduced two new forms to help reduce small business paperwork (the 1120A form for corporations and the 1065 form for partnerships). The SBA report said IRS "is continuing its two-year study to develop a better methodology for estimating paperwork burdens."

The Office of Advocacy will scrutinize the results of the study to determine whether the methodology will be appropriate for estimating the costs to small business on complying with paperwork requirements."

The report noted that following the lead of the Federal Government, many states have enacted legislation and initiated programs to promote small business competition and have enacted regulatory flexibility acts and paperwork reduction acts.

Pirates win first game of season at Homecoming

By ELLIS CUEVAS

It was a sweet 20-0 high school Homecoming victory for the Pass Christian Pirates over East Central Friday night.

A change in the Pass offense kept the Hornets confused through the contest, as the thin Pirates bent several times on defense, yet tightened as East Central would threaten to score.

Pass Head Coach Alton Wright said as the game ended, "East Central was looking for us to run from a wing formation, and we surprised them with an I formation."

"We changed our running attack because of injuries and were able to move the ball from the I formation," a jubilant Wright stated after his Pirates won their first victory of the season.

Wright alternated his several members of the squad of 20 who were dressed for the game on each play offense and defense.

The Pirates first score was as signal caller J.W. Dedeaux raced in for an 8-yard run with 6:44 left in the first quarter.

A fake punt for the PAT was missed as Dedeaux threw a pass to Gary

Smith who had one foot out of the end zone.

The score was on a drive which started on East Central's 49-yard line with Dedeaux rushing for most of the yardage.

After exchange of punts, the Pirates came right back on another drive with Winston Ausmer scoring on an 8-yard run.

The conversion try was no good giving the Pirates a 12-0 edge which remained until late in the fourth quarter.

Half time festivities included the announcing the Homecoming maids and escorts with Tamika Barnes being named as queen.

A good turnout of fans were on hand for the game with most remaining until the final play of the game.

East Central received the kick-off to open the second half of play and rolled up several first downs and were threatening until it was broken up by a Nathan Bernard pass interception and nice return.

The Pirates bogged down and had to punt, and East Central came storming back on another drive with a series of three first downs before being stopped on the Pass 14-yard line on some good defensive play.

Six points were added for Pass Christian as Vincent Henderson scored on a 1-yard run with only 55 seconds left in the game.

The two-point conversion was good with Dedeaux scoring on a quarterback keeper.

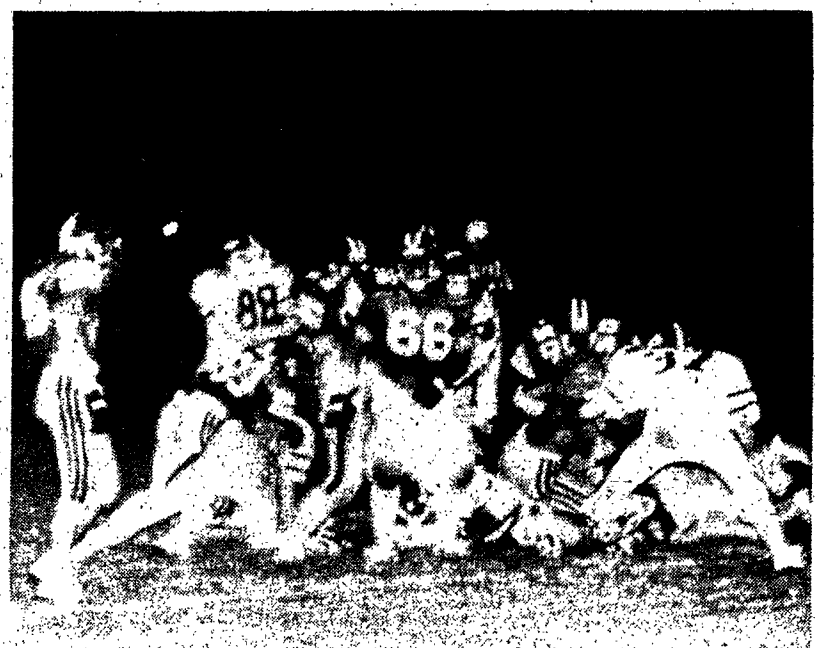

Pass Christian registered 11 first downs to East Central's eight; with the Pirates on top in total yardage 200 to the Hornet's 118.

Coach Wright said, "We played everyone dressed tonight, it was a team victory, all played an outstanding game."

Next week the Pirates who are now 1-4 for the season will host Pearl River Central.

was fumbled and David Zanca recovered for the Rocks deep in their territory.

Nothing that the Rocks tried on offense seemed to work, and Wittmann's punt was downed on the SSC 40-yard line.

Facing a fourth and three situation, Pearl River QB Tillman threw a strike to Russell Lee who was tackled by David Zanca on the Rock five-yard line.

Three plays later Ted Strain took it in and PRC led 28-0 with 1:08 left in the first half.

On the Rocks next possession, Dempsey rolled out his attempted pass to Zanca was intercepted by Cedric Tillman as time expired in the first half.

SSC's only points came in the third quarter when Ya-Sin Shabazz threw a pass to Zanca which was intercepted by Tillman in the endzone. Tillman attempted to run it out, but Zanca tackled him in the endzone for a safety, bringing the score to 28-2.

The Rocks took the ensuing punt and returned it to their 44-yard line. A halfback pass from Shabazz was intercepted by cornerback Eric Nixon and returned 65 yards for a PRC score. This ended the scoring for the evening at 35-2.

Both teams began to freely substitute at this point. Shabazz took over at QB and completed a nice 21 yarder to end Jack Simpson, giving the Rocks a first down at the PRC 39-yard line.

On the next play, Shabazz threw a perfect strike to David Zanca who had beaten two PRC defenders, but Zanca dropped the ball in the endzone. Several pass plays later, the Rocks were out of downs and PRC took over with :56 seconds left and ran out the clock.

Next Saturday, St. Stanislaus, 2-3, travels to Metairie, La. to take on Riverdale High School. Game time is set for 3:30 p.m. at East Jefferson stadium.

but had self-destructed.

"We had two touchdowns called back and fumbled twice just short of a score," he said.

"I don't like to lose a game but it is not as bad when you lose to such a good team," Gill said.

The Hawks had a total offensive against the Yellow Jackets of 450 yards, with 404 yards rushing and 46 yards passing.

St. Martin's 11 first downs outnumbered the Hawks' by two, but on total offense they only had 254 yards.

Next week the Hawks will host Long Beach for the Homecoming game. Kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m.

PRC crushes Rocks, 35-2

It was Pearl River Central's homecoming, and when the game was completed the Blue Devil alumni had watched their team dominate the lifeless St. Stanislaus Rockchaws 35-2.

To say that the Rocks are in a slump would be an understatement. After posting two opening season wins, the Rocks have been outscored by their next three opponents 69-7.

Coach Vernon Powell said that his their best field position of the evening.

Two incomplete passes by Dempsey and a reverse to Shabazz didn't work and Wittman had to punt for the sixth time. But a bad snap from center rolled in front of the punter and PRC fell on the ball at the SSC 37-yard line.

Pearl River drove down to the SSC eight-yard line and appeared ready to score again, but a bad pitch-out by Tillman to running back Ted Strain team works extremely hard in practice going over their game plan for the upcoming opponent. But at game time, the Rocks seem to forget all their responsibilities.

The result is confusion which erodes team confidence.

The bright spots for the Rockchaws were a pair of sophomores—Ya-Sin Shabazz who replaced Jimmy Dempsey at quarterback in the fourth quarter; and linebacker Jim Bradley who made several solid tackles on defense.

The SSC offensive line could not handle the four-man rush of the Blue Devils, as the Rocks wound up with a negative 32 yards rushing for the evening.

SSC appeared to lose faith early in the ballgame when Eric Doyle's opening kickoff was taken by Cedric Tillman and returned 76 yards for a touchdown. Wes Lossett then kicked the first of five extra points to give PRC a 7-0 lead with only fourteen seconds elapsed in the game.

Ya-Sin Shabazz took Lossett's kickoff and returned it to the SSC 41-yard line, but the Rocks could not move the ball against a strong PRC defense. Phil Wittmann's punt rolled dead on the PRC 43-yard line.

The Rock defense stiffened and PRC had to punt, but the Rockchaws lost four yards in this possession and again had to punt.

Sean Buntin took Wittmann's punt and returned it to the PRC 42-yard line.

Two plays later PRC scored again when QB Cedric Tillman threw a 35-yard TD strike to Russell Lee. Lossett's PAT was good and PRC led 14-0 with 2:42 left in the first quarter.

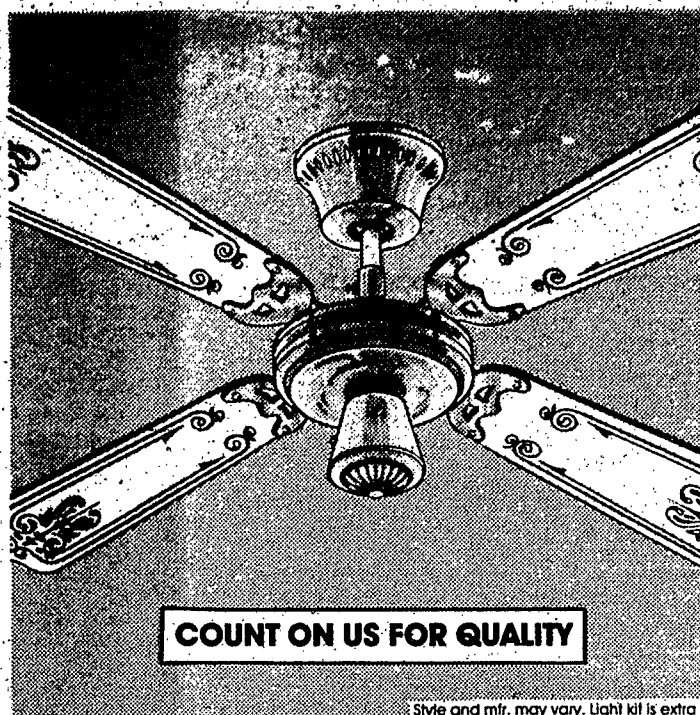

Once again the Rock offense could not generate a first down and Wittmann's punt was downed on the PRC 43-yard line.

Tillman got the PRC offense moving. A 35-yard Tillman to Russell Lee TD strike increased the Blue Devil lead to 21-0.

The Rocks took the ensuing kickoff back to their 40-yard line, and a 18-yard penalty for an illegal block advanced the ball to the 45-yard line.

Undefeated Tigers extend win streak, drop Bearcats 28-6

BY DENA BISNETTE

The undefeated Bay St. Louis High School Tigers extended their winning streak to six games Friday night by defeating the 5-A Long Beach Bearcats 28-6.

Bay High, a 3-A school ranked 17th going into this week's game, turned in their best performance of the season without three of their top starters.

Quarterback Jeffery Smith, injured in the Bay High-Pass Christian game, remains sidelined with a knee injury. Also unable to play Friday were running back Willie Lewis and defensive tackle Jerry Island.

"I can't say enough good things about the team tonight," Head Coach Cleveland Williams said.

"That was an awesome display of running the football," Assistant Coach G.L. McRaney said. "You can't say enough about the offensive line and the backs. We executed, and that's what happens when you execute."

"We put a great deal of pressure on a sophomore back, Aaron Whavers, but he did the job. Quentin Bell was a good field general."

"They're dedicated, and they just don't believe they can't do something. They play hard every minute," McRaney added.

"The kids weren't real excited this week before the game, they just practiced hard and did what they had to do. We don't get real wound up because we're saving our energy for the ballgame."

Whavers was allowed to unleash that energy on the Long Beach defense as he substituted for Lewis, who sustained a sprained ankle in last week's 34-0 win over East Central.

"Aaron Whavers did a fine job. He had at least 100 yards rushing and so did Matt Fairconnetue," Williams commented.

"This game was a fine example of really good team ball. Each one of the Tigers gave 100 percent."

"We did everything so well. We ran on them, we laid the pass on them some, we tried the Power I and the Wing T, and it all worked," Williams added.

"We played the best game offensively and defensively that we've played all year," added Assistant Coach Gary Griffin.

"Whavers really took up the slack for Willie Lewis. Matt Fairconnetue had the best game he's had this year and the line really blocked on offense. This was a total team effort both offensively and defensively."

"Long Beach is in a rebuilding year and they have a good team. They really have a great winning attitude over there," Griffin added. "We had to play an outstanding game in every area to beat them."

Bay High's Nasty Bunch Defense was successful in holding Robert Taylor, the Bearcats' star running back, to less than 80 yards for the game. Taylor had been averaging about 100 per game, Williams said.

The coaches said the entire Nasty Bunch played an outstanding game, but gave special mention to Dennis Dear and Louis Burton.

"Burton did a great job stopping them, and Dear intercepted an important Long Beach pass," Williams said.

Bay High wasted no time Friday night, scoring on their first drive. Bell went in for the first TD on a keeper from 25 yards out.

Stace McRaney picked up the PAT, giving the Tigers a 7-0 lead with 7:28 remaining in the first quarter.

Bay High struck again in the first quarter with Fairconnetue and Whavers providing the spark.

Fairconnetue carried for 48 yards to set up a one yard scoring run up the middle by Whavers.

McRaney kicked the PAT to bring the score to 14-0 with 3:17 left in the first quarter.

The second quarter was a defensive battle, remaining scoreless.

In second half action, with 3:07 left in the third quarter Whavers swept through the Long Beach defensive unit for 22 yards and a score. McRaney added the extra point to extend the Tiger lead to 21-0.

Long Beach finally hit the scoreboard in the fourth quarter. Not to be denied, the Bearcats put together a sustained drive, moving through the vaunted Tiger defense to set up the score on a pass play.

Tiger Rob Compretta blocked the PAT kick. The score was 21-6 with less than two minutes to go in the game.

On their final drive, the Tigers' Brian Laneaux skirted around the left side for 38 yards and a touchdown.

Laneaux topped off his touchdown run with a successful PAT kick with less than a minute left in the fourth quarter.

The final score stood at 28-6.

Bay High's total yardage for the game was 334, with 315 yards rushing. Leading rushers were Whavers and Fairconnetue.

Long Beach was held to 141 yards, with 78 rushing and 63 via the passing route.

The Tigers have an open date next week but will host St. Martin on Oct. 25.

Hawks sting St. Martin Yellow Jackets, 39-6

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Winning their fourth game of the season and their first district match, the Hancock North Central Hawks took all the fun out of St. Martin's Homecoming game with a 39-6 win.

Eager to play, the Hawks greeted their Yellow Jacket opponents to cries of "Bug Meat" and proceeded to sting the St. Martin team with six touchdowns and 450 yards total offense.

Leading the Hawk attack was Halfback Charles Burton who carried the ball 13 times for 303 yards and crossed the goal line four times to score.

Head Coach Irvin Favre said Burton had a super game, really putting pressure on the St. Martin defense.

"Charles found the openings and took them," he added.

Favre also had words of praise for the "outstanding" performance of the defense.

"The defense just had a great game all night," he said.

"They were geared to stop Yellow Jacket Tommy Weldy and that is what they did," Favre added.

St. Martin returned the kickoff but lost possession when Quarterback Kurt Knesel was sacked in the backfield.

The Hawks also ended their first drive of the game with a mishap when St. Martin recovered a Hancock fumble.

After a Yellow Jacket punt, the Hawks took possession on the 20-yard line.

Two plays later Hawk Quarterback Brett Favre connected with John Tucei on a 45-yard pass play taken into the endzone.

This score was wiped out by penalties but the determined Hawks took just four more plays to do it again.

Burton brought cheering fans to their feet with a 64-yard run for the first score of the game, three minutes into the second quarter.

Favre ran it in for the two-point conversion giving the Hawks an 8-0 lead.

St. Martin got a taste of the same when a 37-yard TD was called back because of a clipping penalty.

Unable to recoup they punted the ball away into the waiting arms of Burton who brought it out to the 29-yard line.

After gains by Stanley Jourdan and Drew Malley, Favre pitched back to Burton who broke through the middle running 46 yards before being stopped by fleet-footed defender Reggie Melvin.

Favre connected again with receiver Tommy Lull in the endzone and an extra point by Malley brought the score to 15-0 with only minutes left in the half.

Hawk Delano Lewis returned the third quarter kickoff 33 yards setting up for the Hancock's next score.

Jourdan added four yards before Burton ran 49 yards to score. This TD was made in a minute and nine seconds, bringing the score to 23-0 with almost two full quarters left.

Stirred by the Hawks mounting score, St. Martin came back to put their only points of the game on the board with a 40-yard pass play from Knesel to Kenny McAtee.

This was the first score of the year for St. Martin in their home stadium.

The Hawks fumbled away their next possession but recovered a Yellow Jacket loose ball to begin another scoring drive.

After a pair of incomplete passes, Burton rushed for 28 yards followed by a no gain play.

Leave it to Burton, who ran again for a 49-yard touchdown with 1:46 in the quarter.

Favre passed to Lull for the PAT. Taking possession from St. Martin on downs, the Hawks began still another scoring drive with runs by Jourdan, Donald Vince, Favre and Burton.

Taking it in again, Burton scored to bring the score to 38-6.

St. Martin had another touchdown called back on penalties on their next to the last possession of the game.

The final score was 39-6.

Yellow Jacket Head Coach Fred Gill said his team had played hard

Americans honor continents discoverer Monday

By Joe Pilet
Publicist
Friendship Oak Chapter
National Society, DAR

On Oct. 14 patriotic Americans will observe Columbus Day. Columbus, said to be discoverer of America, also has another claimant in the person of Amerigo Vespucci who is said to have discovered the continent of America in 1497. We find no record of Columbus refuting this claim.

In 1498 during his third voyage Columbus set foot on America's mainland. We owe a debt of gratitude to both Columbus and Vespucci and to the men who served them during voyages of discovery and exploration.

Perhaps we should introduce a bill in Congress asking that the observance be changed from Columbus Day to Vespucci-Colombo Day. Such a request would in all likelihood be accepted, since Congress recently proclaimed Oct. 28 as Mule Appreciation Day it would seem that august body is in a receptive mood for suggestions.

King John II of Portugal refused Columbus' request for assistance in 1482. Maybe we shouldn't pass judgement on him. Columbus really asked for a whole lot!

At the king's expenses he wanted three ships equipped and maintained; he wanted title of Admiral - and he wanted all privileges passed on to his sons. King John did what any careful business man might have done. He didn't buy that hard sell try.

What was Columbus trying to prove? That the world was round had long before been an accepted fact by thinking men. What he was really trying to find was an easier, faster, more economical way of bringing gold, gems, drugs, and spices to Europe. He felt he could accomplish this by sailing due west to arrive in the east - the Indies. He also hoped to gain fame for himself and his immediate family.

We are familiar with the trials, tragedies and triumphs of the voyage when land was first seen on Oct. 12 at 2 a.m. on the island which Columbus named San Salvador. Good Queen Isabelle and King Ferdinand put Columbus on the royal payroll.

Columbus' fourth and last voyage ended in Spain on November 7, 1504. Queen Isabelle had died. King Ferdinand was plainly not willing to do anything further for him.

He was 53 years old and in failing health. Painful arthritis had stiffened his joints. On May 20, 1506 the discoverer of America - the Admiral of the Oceans - died.

What little traveling he did during his last days was by mule back. Perhaps our congressmen recalled the services of those faithful animals when they proclaimed Mule Appreciation Day.

The Friendship Oak Chapter NS DAR invite and urge citizens to fly their flags on October 14 while recalling Columbus voyage discovery resulting in our Land of the Free.

Men and women have the same basic nutritional needs, but women—because of more body fat and certain other physiological factors—need to be more selective in their daily food intake.

"Men have a larger percentage of lean body mass and the percentage of body fat is higher in women," explained Dr. Allison Yates, assistant dean of the University of Southern Mississippi School of Home Economics.

"Women can train and exercise to lower their percentage of body fat, but men of equal fitness will always have more lean body mass than women," she added, pointing out the biggest difference in nutritional requirements for men and women is based on body composition.

Yates said women, as a result, have to be more careful with the foods they select in order to get their recommended daily requirements. Women must select foods that are more nutrient-dense.

Women require the same nutrients as men—energy, protein, vitamins, minerals and water—but the amounts of the nutrients needed by women may be more, as in the case of iron, or may be less, as in the case of energy, than men.

In 1957 the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) published a report that suggested that an individual's daily diet should be made up of meals containing foods from four basic groups: 1) milk, 2) meat, 3) breads and cereals, and 4) vegetables and fruit.

In recognition of the need to include more fruits, vegetables and whole-grain cereals in the diet the basic four of 28 years ago have been broadened to today's basic eight: 1) milk, 2) meat (including fish, poultry, cheese and eggs), 3) dark green or deep yellow vegetables, 4) citrus fruits, 5) other fruits and vegetables, 6) break (whole-grain or enriched flour), 7) cereal and potatoes, and 8) fats (butter, margarine, etc.).

Dr. Yates pointed out that the Food and Nutrition Board's recommended daily allowances (RDA) are "set up with the idea of meeting the needs of almost all of the healthy population's nutritional requirements. The recommendations are actually above the average required in order to meet the majority of the population's needs."

She said it is very difficult to make specific recommendations for the general female population because individual dietary needs can be quite unique.

Periods of growth and physical activity, for example, will require extra calorie and protein intake, while older individuals require the same dietary essentials in fewer calories.

In reality, the knowledge of essential dietary constituents and their proportions is inadequate, so making recommendations is difficult. It is now believed that individuals should eat a wide variety of foods to increase the probability that all of the essentials will be included.

In general, a balanced diet should include calories distributed among protein, fat and carbohydrate to provide a nutritional intake of 10 to 15 percent of calories as protein, 50 to 60 percent as carbohydrate and 30 to 35 percent as fat.

Other factors play an important role as well.

Women have slightly lower metabolic rates than men of the same body size. And as the level of physical activity increases, the need for energy increases. But the energy required decreases with age for both sexes.

Some 75 percent of American households use vitamin supplements, producing more than $100 million in business in the United States. This popular use is based on the idea that "the more you get of a good thing, the better off you'll be."

Findings show the usual dietary intake will provide vitamins at an adequate level, so vitamin supplementation is not needed if a balanced diet is consumed.

Minerals, like vitamins, receive much popular attention. They are important to good health, but because they are adequately supplied by a balanced diet, deficiencies are unlikely to occur.

Iron, sodium and potassium are three minerals deserving special mention for females.

Iron is an essential component of hemoglobin, the oxygen-carrying component of blood, and myoglobin, the oxygen-transporting part of muscle. The RDA of iron for adult women is 18 milligrams per day, with only five to 10 percent of ingested iron ordinarily being absorbed, depending on the body's needs. Women, in comparison with men who lose about one milligram per day of iron, lose as much as another one milligram per day on the average from menstrual loss.

The incidence of iron deficiency in women in general is 35 to 58 percent. At the very least, females should be encouraged to include iron-rich foods in their diets.

Although sodium is the mineral lost in largest quantity through sweat, salt supplementation is rarely necessary. Studies have demonstrated that the sodium lost in sweat by physical activity easily can be replaced by the usual salting of foods.

Potassium is a mineral often thought to be important in preventing muscle cramping. For that reason, athletes should be encouraged to include a number of potassium-rich foods in their daily diet. One small banana will provide the daily requirements of potassium.

Water, an essential nutrient for health, makes up 53 percent of body weight in the average female. Rapid water loss can seriously affect physical performance, so individuals who exercise are particularly prone to water loss through sweat—as much as three liters a day, depending on the length and intensity of the exercise.

Worldwide, about 50-million women, including more than 10-million in the United States currently are using oral contraceptive agents (OCA). The metabolic effects of OCAs are similar to those seen in normal pregnancies. The OCA can change the body's metabolism of carbohydrates, proteins, vitamins, and minerals, varying with the type of hormone.

Observations of healthy women indicate elevations in blood sugar and growth hormone levels, and the side effects are more pronounced in women classified in the high-risk group of adolescents; lactating women; women with poor nutritional status, histories of diabetes or hypertension; and women with poor food intakes.

Discontinuation of the OCA for three months, however, generally has been linked with glucose tolerance tests returning to normal.

During unique physiological situations such as pregnancy, proper nutrition becomes especially important. How important daily nutritional requirements are is determined by the individual.

"The real people at risk are those who don't have control over their own food selection," Dr. Yates maintained.

Hancock County Forester

Chemicals, Not Frost, Create Fall Colors

"It looks like someone took a brush and painted the forest!"

That must be one of the most common remarks we hear each fall, as people begin to marvel at the glorious spectrum of colors in the county's hardwood forest areas, in yards and along our streets in town. The gums, sumac bushes and maples are really putting on a show for us in some places.

Despite appearances, nature doesn't paint with brushstrokes. Paint-by-numbers would be the more accurate comparison, because each tree has its own fall color bound up in the chemical composition of the sap, which provides the "instructions" on what color to turn.

Trees change colors according to complex chemical formulas, did you know that? Depending on how much iron, magnesium, phosphorus or sodium is in the sap, and the acidity of the chemicals in the leaves, trees might turn amber, gold, red, orange, or just fade from green to brown.

Scarlet oaks, red maples, and sumacs, for instance, have a slightly acidic sap which causes the leaves to turn bright red. The leaves of some varieties of ash, growing in areas where limestone is present, turn a regal purplish-blue.

What prompts the change? Although a lot of people think that "Jack Frost" is responsible for the color change, the weather actually has nothing to do with it.

As the days grow shorter and the nights longer, a chemical clock inside the tree starts up, releasing a hormone which restricts the flow of sap to each leaf.

As autumn progresses, the sap flow slows and chlorophyll, the chemical which gives the leaves their green color in the spring and summer, gradually disappears. The residual sap becomes more concentrated as it dries, creating the colors of fall.

As the leaves die and fall to earth, the forest begins a winter-long slumber.

The leaves, which through the warmer months convert carbon dioxide to oxygen, now start another task, enriching the soil and providing the nutrients for our future generations of trees.

By the time this year's leaves fall, next spring's leaves are tightly wrapped in buds ready to unravel in the soft colors of Spring. Check the branches on the trees in your yard. See all those buds?

Softwoods gradually lose their foliage too, but not nearly so noticeably as do the hardwoods. Most softwoods lose their two or three-year-old needles in the Fall. But some needles, plump with heavy resins and sap, drop to the earth year-round and are replaced with fresh ones.

In the Spring new, tender shoots at the end of the limbs add a dash of emerald green to the stately and somber pine forests. (By the way, you can prevent winter-kill of many of your shrubs and small trees by raking up those needles and using them for mulch; especially for your plants with a Northern exposure).

These cycles of change are sometimes interrupted by man, or more dramatically by nature. In recent years, several such natural catastrophes have been widely publicized. In the Pacific Northwest, Mt. St. Helens flattened the forests surrounding the volcano.

In New England and the South, two types of predatory insects, the spruce budworm and the Southern pine beetle, have decimated vast stands of valuable timber.

In the first half of 1985, forest fires around the nation destroyed more forest land than in the past five years combined. We were lucky here in the Magnolia State. We only had an 'average' fire season last Spring, Florida, the Carolinas, and later the West Coast had a very severe fire problem this year.

We're now entering our Fall season for wildfires here in Mississippi. I hope you will do all you can to help keep the wildfire situation on a low key here in our county. We're going to need every tree we've got in the decades to come. And besides...what would it be like if we didn't have all this beautiful coloration along our streets and roadsides!

Site needed for new main post office at Bay St. Louis

The U. S. Postal Service is seeking a suitable site upon which to build a new main post office building in Bay St. Louis, Postmaster Tom W. Hill said.

The "preferred area" for site consideration is bounded on the north by City Limits and Scianna, on the east by Drinkwater Road, on the south by 200 feet south of Hwy. 90, and on the west by City Limits. Where streets or highways are used as boundaries, sites on either side of the street or boundary are considered within the preferred area. All utilities and access to a two-lane paved public street must be available.

Minimum site size needed is 216,450 sq. ft. of land, or a lot with dimensions of 370 ft. by 585 ft.

Property owners are asked to submit their site offerings no later than November 4, 1985 to: Gregory C. Riggam and Associates, Inc., Suite A, 3230 W. Esplanade Avenue, Metairie, La. 70002-9999.

This firm is a contract representative for the Real Estate Branch, Field Real Estate and Buildings Office, U. S. Postal Service, P. O. Drawer 3744, Memphis, Tenn. 38173-0744, to receive, review and analyze all site offers for the Postal Service. Upon completion of their review, a report will be presented to the Postal Service for approval and final site selection.

After a suitable site has been located and the Postal Service has accepted an offer to sell from the owner, an architect will be hired to design the building.

The proposed new postal-owned building will have approximately 18,718 sq. ft. of interior space.

WOODLAND IMPROVEMENT

By Doug Stephens

Hancock County's leading income is from pine woodland. For this to continue, proper management practices must be carried out.

One very important management practice is woodland thinning. If pine trees are to be healthy and vigorous, they need to be able to compete for minerals, water and sunlight.

Pine trees that are properly thinned will grow slower and be more susceptible to diseases and insect damage.

A pine timber stand will naturally thin itself when the trees are overcrowded. However, this natural thinning takes several more years to complete and may allow more diseases.

Also no income is gained by the natural thinning. By thinning pine timber on a 5 to 7 year cutting cycle, woodland income per acre can be greatly increased. Pine harvested during the fall and winter months are less likely to cause infestation of the remaining stand.

Trees that are to cut during a thinning operation should be marked by a qualified person. If you hire the job done, follow up on the operation to make sure the correct trees are being cut.

Insect damaged, diseased, crooked, unwanted and suppressed trees should be included in woodland improvement cuts. These cuts should be done every 5 to 7 years until the stand has reached maturity. At maturity, the growth will slow and the trees should be removed.

Don't stop your timber production when you cut the mature trees. Make plans to continue production, even before the final cut. Pine seedlings will need to be re-established. This can be done by natural reseeding or by planting.

For more information, call or come by the Soil Conservation Office in Kiln, Phone 255-3225.
